George Mann was 63 years old yesterday, and to celebrate the event, he says, he went into the woods and between the hours of 7 and 10 he chopped two cords of four-foot wood, and it wasn't much of a day for wood chopping, either.

The July number of the Baby Pathfinder, the popular pocket railway guide, contains the summer schedules of all the railroads in New England. If your newsdealer cannot supply you with a copy, put five two-cent stamps or a dime in an envelope addressed, "Baby Pathfinder," Boston, and the publishers will send you the guide by return mail.

"Tony" says: We lead, let others trail. We were the first ones to introduce ice cream cones in this vicinity. They are the handiest thing for picnics you can get. No plates, no spoons needed, no dishes to wash. All the best and largest places in the big cities use them. We sell you everything right here for your outing, ice-cream and cones to eat it in. Ask to see them.

James Glass, a teamster employed by Trow & Holden, had a narrow and particularly fortunate escape from serious injury yesterday afternoon. Glass was driving his team and had occasion to turn into the steam mill near Dodge's bridge between this city and Montpelier. As he started to drive over the bridge, the road to the mill yard, his horse became frightened and jumped to one side, throwing Glass from his seat on the wagon. As he fell his foot caught in a wheel and, try as he could, he was unable to extricate himself. Luckily an electric car came along at just this time and rescuers came to his assistance and freed him from his dangerous position. He escaped with slight bruises.

The public of Barre is to be congratulated in being able to hear Mr. Henry Goodwin of the Crawford house, Boston, at the Arcadia day celebration on Wednesday evening. Mr. Goodwin, although a native of New Hampshire, has conducted a hotel in Boston, The Crawford house, for a number of years, and is known far and wide as an ideal host. But it is as a fraternalist that the members of the Royal Arcanum know him best. Mr. Goodwin is one of the earlier members of the order and represented the grand council of Massachusetts in the supreme council for nearly 20 years and has spoken for the order in many states; in fact, he is still kindly remembered in Barre, having come here for Green Mountain council some 18 or 20 years ago. While Mr. Goodwin is always interesting to any audience, it is to the ladies particularly that he appeals, and he has been aptly termed, "the silver-tongued orator." Mr. Goodwin will be very glad to meet all his old friends at the opera house Wednesday evening.

Tool Sharpeners, Notice.

A regular meeting of Tool Sharpeners' No. 2 branch, Granite Cutters' International association, will be held in their hall, Nichols block on Wednesday evening, June 23, 1909, at 7 o'clock.

The three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Duilio Ciampi of Railroad street died last night of cholera infantum. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment in the Hope cemetery.

Dr. O. E. Barr's team ran away on North Seminary street this morning, jumping fences and plowing through gardens on that street. At Short street it left the wagon hanging to a fence and the horse continued on its way to Main street and raced up through Main street to the covered bridge on South Main, where it was caught. Strange to say, the wagon received only a broken dasher and the horse was not even scratched. The harness was broken when the horse cut loose from the wagon. The team had been left standing in the street by Dr. Barr, and it is thought that a lumber wagon driving up behind the horse frightened it.
